CRITERION I - CURRICULAR ASPECTS

1.1 - Curriculum Planning and Implementation

1.1.1 - Institution has the mechanism for well planned curriculum delivery and documentation. Explain in 500 words

While the academic curriculum and its calendar are governed by the University of North Bengal, careful introspection and sustained implementation of the planning is supervised by the college authorities in order to ensure the delivery process over the period of the academic year. The College meticulously develops action plans taking into account the objectives of the curriculum, the number of teachers and students and the infrastructure available. Towards this end, assiduous planning is done by the College before the beginning of each academic year. Before the commencement of the academic year, the Academic Committee of the college, comprising of all the Head of the Departments, plans and ensures effective and timely implementation of the curriculum through infrastructural planning in terms of aspects such as Departmental resoures and teaching-learning planning for the session, number of classrooms, tutorial blocks, availability of books and academic resources and also the exam schedules. Broad guidelines of delivery, pace and assessment are decided in both the Academic Committee and subject-wise Departmental meetings which are then documented in the form of minutes. Faculty has the freedom to decide the pace and transmission of the curriculum within the time frame and requirements of the University. Further, as a review mechanism, departmental meetings, Teachers' Council meetings and formal and informal feedback mechanisms ensure changes in the strategy and action plan, if any, are incorporated on a timely and need-oriented basis. The academic plan is transitioned into effective action through lectures, presentations, assignments, seminars, workshops and discussions. Syllabus is made available to the students in the beginning of the academic session and objectives, lesson plan and expected outcomes are well explained during the introductory lecture. Departmental Bridge Courses are also being held by a few departments to facilitate the transition from the school level education to the undergraduate syllabus. Besides traditional lectures and seminars, infrastructure for the use of ICT in classrooms, like power point presentations, smart boards and audio-visual support are all available to make the delivery of the curriculum enabling and interesting for the students. In some departments, bridge courses are held in order to make the curriculum delivery more holistic and effective. Tutorials are held with mentoring and participative learning encouraged. Internal assessment is done transparently with examined scripts shown to students. Inter-personal skills are enhanced through Mentoring system.

Yes, IQAC collects the feedback from the students in two different levels. Firstly, at the departmental level where all the 1st, 2nd and 3rd year Hons students are supplied with a set of questionnaires pertaining to teaching learning aspects only. Here, students are free to assess the teachers individually in the areas like syllabus coverage by teachers, teaching ability and communication skills. The collected data is analysed by the Academic and Administrative Audit Committee (AAAC) and presented to the head of the institution for discussion and debate. The Teacher In Charge intervenes and addresses possible areas of improvement. She also evaluates these with each teacher, motivating her/him to look at specific areas where growth is needed. Secondly, feedback is collected from the final year students every year in an inclusive way by covering all areas like teaching and learning, college infrastructure, Office and Administration and Library and Laboratory. These set of questionnaires include the student satisfaction survey queries on teaching learning process as recommended in NAAC criterion. Beside this, separate proforma is circulated by the IQAC through which the IQAC solicits quality feedback and suggestions from faculty, non teaching staffs, parents/guardian and the college alumni. This data is compiled and analysed by the AAAC and presented to IQAC. The analysed feedback is used to develop the roadmap for the next academic year which takes into consideration the interests of various stakeholders. The IQAC uses the feedback data as a critical input in designing plans for improvement of curriculum delivery. Any serious issue expressed in the feedback is brought to the knowledge of the college management. Further, in order to improve the quality of data collection the IQAC reviews the questionnaire every year and updates regularly as per the requirements.

Our social responsibility towards the society is not served by imparting education only, but it has been our moto to provide holistic education to all. Through various social outreach programmes, organized throughout the year like adopting villages, we have made an effort to give back to the society. The extension activities of the college and its outreach programs help students engage with the community around them and strive to awaken in students a sense of social and civic responsibility, environmental stewardship and sensitivity to the needs of those different from themselves.
